INGREASED TOBACCO TAX

As Proposed by the Ways and Means Committee.

WHAT STOGIE MANUFACTURERS SAY

Will Be the Effect on That Industry if the Measure Becomes a Law-It Would Greatly Cripple 1t, and Virtually Freeze Out the Small Concerns - It Would Also Require Double the Amount of Capital and Consequently a Reduction in the Wages of Employes - Interesting Talks With Wheeling Manufactur-

The proposition before the ways and means committee of the house of representatives, coming from the Democratic members of that body to increase the revenue tax on domestic tobacco from $3 to $6, being part of a scheme for the raising of the revenues, the other looking to a reduction of tariff duties, is looked upon by the cigar manufacturers of this city with grave concern. The Intelligences reporter had talks with a number of the principal manufacturers yesterday and everyone of them agreed that if the object was carried out it would be disastrous to the stogic industry of this section. Virtunlly it would compel many small establishments to quit business, and where the work would be continued there would be a considerable cut in

Mr. Andrew Seamon, of H. Seamon & Son, was emphatic in expressing the belief that no more serious blow could be aimed at the tobacco manufacturing industry in this city. The increase in the tax as proposed would compel every manufacturer to double his capital, and that he knew, many would be unable to do. At present, he remarked, the in-dustry was in a prosperous condition, but the addition of $3 tax would mate-but the addition of $3 tax would materially cripple it without resulting in any benefit to the consumer.

Mr. Augustus Pollack was very busy when the reporter called, but spared enough time to say that he was opposed to any increase in the tax. The proposition, he said, meant an increase in the tax on stogies and tips. There, were many concerns, he thought, that could not survive if the measure was passed. Besides it was not right to tax an article Resides it was not right to tax an article not survive if the measure was passed.

Besides it was not right to tax an article worth $11 more than a production worth $50.

Mr. C. F. Brandfass, of Muhn & Brandfass, was unequivocally opposed to the proposed increase. "It will aftect the cheap grade of goods, and virtually ruin the stogie, tip, chewing and smoking tobacco industry in this city. If they want to increase the revenue why don't they increase the revenue why don't they increase the revenue why don't they increase the tax on cigarettes? They are only taxed 50 cents a thousand, while stogies and tips are taxed at $3 per thousand. There is an inequality that I don't think is right. I estimate that the cigarette output of the whole country for the present year will be 3,350,000,000. Now an increase of tax in that direction would yield a very handsome revenue. I am most emphatically opposed to any increase of the present tax of $3 per thousand."

Mr. Hugo L. Loos considered the proposed increase a very serious matter for

Mr. Hugo L. Loos considered the proposed increase a very serious matter for the manufacturers of stogies of this section of the market. "There are many reasons for this concern on our part," said Mr. Loos. "Ever since the reduction of the tax from $6 to $3 per thousand the manufacture of stogies and tips has been in a prosperous condition. It was the Congress of 1882-3 that passed the measure reducing the tax, the law going into effect April 1, 1883, and from that time until the present the stogie business has been increasing in volume, having been much more successful than in the former years of its history. This reduction benefited the manufacturers and employes alike."

"In what respect?" asked the reporter. Mr. Hugo L. Loos considered the pro-

"In this way. When the reduction of the tax occurred Garfield Assembly of cigarmakers demanded an increase of 25 cents per thousand, which was granted. The business continued to in-crease to August 1890, to such an extent that the manufacturers were enabled to allow an additional increase of 25 cents in wayes. At the same time this inallow an additional increase of 25 cents in wages. At the same time this in-crease did not affect the consumer. For example, when the tax was $6 stogies wold on an average of $11 per thousand. Under the reduction and notwithstanding the advance in wages we are now able to sell a better grade of goods from $8.75 to $9 per thousand. There has been a vast increase in this district in been a vast increase in this district in the volume of business. At the end of the revenue year June 30, 1892, the in-crease was something over 3,500,000; and for the official revenue year ending June 30, 1893, the increase was 4,379,-

"What will be the effect of this proposed increase of tax?"
"If Congress advances the rate to $6
I do not see that there is anything else left for manufacturers to do but to releft for manufacturers to do but to reduce the wages to the standard than obtained under the $6 rate. Furthermore, if the tax is increased as proposed every manufacturer will be compelled to increase his capital correspondingly. For instance say a manufacturer turns out a million cigars a month. Under the present internal revenue measure the tax on the product is $3,000. If the rate is increased to $6 per thousand the tax will amount to $6,000. Consequentrate is increased to so per trousance.

tax will amount to $6,000. Consequently a manufacturer will have to double his capital without any corresponding increase in profit. That's the way it will work."

THE BRIDAL TRAIN.

The Record Was Broken for Bridal

Couples Thursday.

Last evening, says the Pittsburgh Post, was a memorable date in the history of the Baltimore & Ohio's famous "bridal train," which runs between this city and Wheeling, in charge of courteous Conductor Ball. The Post has more than once called attention to the remarkable patronage accorded to this train by brides and grooms starting out their weiding tours from points along the route, but last evening's record eclipsed everything up to date. There was no less than five newly-wedded couples aboard, two from West Alexander, the home of the slumbering groom, noted a few days are, two from Wheeling and one from a point west of Bellaire. The couples from West Alexander are William Moore and wife, nee Miss McDonald, and M. C. Murray and wife, formerly Miss Belle Lucas. Their destination was Chicago. As they stepped aboard the train at West Alexander they were showered with rice by their friends, and, as a result, Flagman Whissen, who was gallantly assisting the fair bride up the steps of the car, got enough rice down his back to feed two Chinamen for a week. more than once called attention to the

SENSATIONAL CASE.

Hearing of Dr. Garrett, the Wetzel County

The hearing of Dr. John Garrett, the Wetzel county physician, who is accused of having eloped with Mrs. David Beegle, wife of a neighbor, was to have taken place before Justice George Arkle in this city yesterday morning, but as the doctor was taken ill at New Martinsthe doctor was taken ill at New Martinsville on the eve of his departure it was pastponed until to-day. The hearing of Mrs. Beegle, however, was started yesterday morning before the justice, and it is expected that the doctor will be brought to Wheeling this morning, when his hearing will take place.

Attorney B. T. Bowers, of New Martinsville, represented Dr. Garrett and Mrs. Beegle, while J. W. McIntire represented the prosecution. The proprietor of the Riverview hotel, in this city, at which the couple stopped when they

The chambermaid, however, testified that only one bed was occupied while the couple were at the hotel. Mrs. Beegle explained this by saying that she made up the bed that she occupied, while the other was occupied by the doctor.

The evidence against the pair is very strong. The parties are prominent in Wetzel county. Dr. Garrett is married. Word was received from New Martinsville last night that Dr. Garrett was in too serious condition to come to Wheeling at that time. If possible he will be brought here to-day. Mrs. Beegle is in jail awaiting the trial.

SERMONS BY TELEPHONE.

A New Fad in England Which is not New in Wheeling.

A newspaper syndicate is sending out very interesting illustrated articles telling of a new fad in English cities. This is having connection made by telephone between popular pulpits and the homes of members of the church. Attractive pictures are given of gentlemen lolling and lounging in smoking gowns with the receiver to their ears, and of women in their boudoirs, all listening to ser-mons by telephone.

The scenes are of course purely in-mone by telephone.

The scenes are of course purely inaginative. In fact, in connection with devotions, they would be ludicrous if they did not savor of the sacrilegious. The articles wind up with the prediction that "doubtless the fad will become popular in America."

The writer perhaps thought he was perpetrating a huge hoax. The fact is, however, that ten years ago a telephone connection was made between a private residence in Wheeling and a leading pulpit. The pulpit was that of Rev. Dr. Cunningham, of the First Presbyterian church, and the transmitter of the telephone was directly underneath his reading desk, while the receiver was in the room of the venerable Mrs. Ott, in the house of her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Laughlin, who then resided at the corner of Chapline and Twelfth streets. Mrs. Ott was confined to the house, and Mrs. Ott was confined to the house, and was therefore unable to attend worship, but yet by this device had the consola-tion every Sabbath of hearing her pastor's sermons.

The difference between the real origin The difference between the real origin of this idea and the fanciful scheme of the syndicate writer is that in the former it was an inspiration of a pous mind, and in the latter the vagary of an irreligious one. The telephone from the pulpit to the home may have a cally use.

NORTH END EXTENSION

Of the Electric Road Starts up Early Next Week.

Yesterday morning the construction gang of the Wheeling Railway Company started the work of wiring along the route of the present horse car line in North Wheeling, on Main street, and in the afternoon the work was completed. This was not a very big job as the poles were already standing along the route. Secretary Shirley, of the construction company, said yesterday that it is expected that cars will be running on the North End electric line Monday on the North End electric line Monday or Tuesday of next week. At first two or possibly three cars will be put on, and close connections will be made with the main line at Tenth street. The latest pattern of closed cars will be put on the extension, very different from the present antiquated vehicles that are an excuse for a street car line on North Main street.

HOW TO TALK.

Interesting Lecture by Dr. Warman at

Dr. E. B. Warman, of Chicago, gave a lecture to the public school teachers and others at Centre school grammar room yesterday afternoon, on the sub-ject, "Pronunciation," dwelling especially on the vowel sounds. An hour was consumed and all were greatly interested. He fully demonstrated the fact that good pronunciation is an accomplishment, and if he'is correct in all his positions, he also demonstrated the fact that but few have the accomplishment mentioned. He stated there is no need of any one becoming tired talking if he knows how to use his voice. We should economize in our talk as well as in using any other part of our work. Place every word where you can "bite" it, and every tone where you can "taste" it.
